U. S. SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS DAYLIGHT LAW
Washington, Oct. 13 (A.P.)—The Supreme Court announced today that it would affirm lower court decisions which upheld the Massachusetts daylight saving law. The right of States to enforce the daylight law was argued before the court today in a case appealed from Massachusetts. Counsel for the Massachusetts State Grange, railroad men, the town of Hadley and others contended that the States were not to observe the standard time fixed by act of Congress.

BYRD PLANE GREETED IN CLEVELAND
Cleveland, Oct. 13 (I.N.S.)—The Josephine Ford, giant monoplane used by Lieut. Col. Richard Byrd to cross the North Pole, arrived at Brookpark Airport here today from Buffalo. The immense Fokker craft, now on a trans-continental trip sponsored by the Guggenheim Foundation to stimulate aviation interest, was welcomed by Mayor John D. Marshall. It will remain here until tomorrow.

NEW YORK STOCKS HAVE GOOD TONE
Following a weak start, stocks showed a good tone in Wall Street today. When call money was advanced to 5-1/2 per cent, near the closing hour the trading slackened perceptibly. U. S. Steel at its best was 142 3-4, up 1 3-4; Timken up 3, West Union up 4, Pullman up 3.

Sharkey Offered $200,000 for Bout

BELLION MYSTERY TRIP HERE

SONG WRITER, BRIDE, IRATE DAD AND STORK ALL DUE ON HUB VISIT

Irving Berlin and his bride, the former Ellis Mackay, were expected to arrive in Boston today with two possibilities conjectured—a reconciliation with Ellin's father and the arrival of the expected addition to the Berlin family.

Two telegrams heralded the coming of the Berlins and the possible arrival of the song writer's estranged father-in-law, Clarence H. Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Company. One telegram signed "Irving Berlin" reserved a suite of rooms at the Copley Plaza Hotel for the couple.

Simultaneously another telegram, signed "A. S. Mackay" was received at the hotel. This one reserved a single room with bath. It was believed at the hotel that the much-maligned couple would reach the hostelry late last night, but they did not appear and the speculation was shifted into today. For several months now an expected addition to the new Berlin family partnership has been rumored. The rumors, however, have been unconfirmed.

'G. O. P.' STEALING OUR STUFF,' CRY DEMOCRATS
Washington, Oct. 13.—(A.P.)—The Democratic administration of Woodrow Wilson, and not the later Republican administration, is entitled to credit for the cumulative state debt under which $1,740,535,510 already has been paid on the public debt due to the world's war, the Democratic national committee declared today in its pre-congressional election statement.

The Republicans try to make out that they are entitled to credit for payments on the debt, the statement said, adding that the law was enacted by a Democratic Congress and signed by President Wilson on March 3, 1917.

NEPTUNE GIVES QUEEN RIGHT OF WAY AT SEA

RUMAN RULER SPEEDING TO U. S.
Queen Marie of Rumania, who has sailed for America on liner Leviathan. She is traveling in regal state, and every effort is being made to assure her a pleasant voyage. Her baggage wardrobe is packed in 50 trunks.

MARIE BORROWS SUIT; BATHES IN SHIP POOL
On Board the S. S. Leviathan, Oct. 13 (I.N.S.)—Queen Marie of Rumania, bound for America, today entered with zest upon the life of an ocean traveler.

"Isn't this comfy," she exclaimed when seen in the private bath of staterooms the royal party occupies.

The Queen arose at 6:45 a. m. and after being served with a cup of tea she and Princess Ileana went for a swim in the Leviathan's huge marble swimming pool. Her Majesty had overlooked the detail of buying a bathing suit before embarking, but one was supplied by the ship.

Although the Queen is the center of interest on the ship, Princess Ileana is running her mother a close second.

Reports by radio relayed to newspapers aboard the Leviathan were to the effect that the Queen would not be opposed to the marriage of her beautiful 17-year-old daughter to a wealthy American.

Friends are said to have joked with the Queen regarding the possibility of Princess Ileana falling in love with some American, without success.

The Queen's mother and her sister, Doria's mother and her sister, were also on the ship.

MANY HEADS CRACKED WHEN MILD MOB OF 196 TRIES TO BREAK JAIL

Media, Pa., Oct. 13 (A.P.)—A mutiny among 196 prisoners in Delaware County Jail was subdued today after six of the prisoners had been shot.

The prisoners, including 20 women inmates, attempted to destroy the interior of the jail after they had been liberated from their cells by "trusties," who had knocked off the locks of the cell doors with iron bars. During the outbreak fires were started in several places.

None of the prisoners was fatally wounded in the volley turned on them by the deputy sheriff and police.

A reduction of their food supply by the warden of the jail was given by the prisoners as the cause of their outbreak.

The outbreak followed a night of a "dinner riot" in the kitchen. There were 10 men and women crowded into the kitchen and the riot was started.

WOMEN START MUTINY
Among them were twenty young negro women who recently had been sent to the prison from the Delight Farm for truancy, where they were alleged to have attempted to start a mutiny. One of the prison boys said was the cause of the riot.

The young women shouting, crying and taunting the men prisoners all night, had sound down, the officials said, to a point of fury.

Many of the men inmates were negroes and they answered the women's taunt for taunt. Throughout the night the five keepers were kept busy going from cell to cell trying to quell the riots and disturbances among the groups locked within the jail.

Breakfast was taken to the prisoners about 8 a. m., but the food failed to quiet them. Suddenly, with wild yells, the women started to break down the doors of the jail.

Arming themselves with iron bars, they tried to break through the doors of the jail.

MYSTERY GIRL SHOOTSELF BEFORE 2 POLICE

A girl of evident refinement, tastefully dressed, about 22 years old, fired a revolver into her side today within sight of two police men on the Charles River embankment.

Instantly she fell to the ground, apparently dead. The police officers rushed to her side and tried to revive her.

Efforts were made today, but the girl died.

WOMEN CROWD COURT; MOB GORDON

ried, excitedly. "His tips were trembling. They were purple. He's a red devil!"

TYRICKS RESTORE ORDER.

It was only after a long time that court officers quieted the excitement and the angry crowd settled down to await his reappearance.

Gordon had been brought from his cell at Charles street jail in accordance with his promise of Monday to tell all today.

Assistant District Attorney Callahan was busy throughout the day regarding the case against Gordon for presentation to the Grand Jury. There was more excitement when Attorney J. J. Morrow demanded an audience by rapping on the door and then Callahan emerged with Attorney Samuel Brower. Morrow engaged in an excited argument with Brower.

A developing row between two parole committees, both named by different groups of investors to represent their interests, helped to bedevil the authorities in their efforts to disintegrate the wreckage of the association.

MOVE FOR RESERVE.

Mostly women, the investors sat in benches in an ante-room, waiting and sobbing as they waited to be interviewed by Callahan. While they waited, police inspectors John Duray and O'Neill took notes on their leas.

While Callahan's investigation was going on, a request was made in the Superior Court for appointment of a receiver to liquidate the assets of the association and try to work a few dollars for the investors.

Gordon Ready to Devote Life to 'Squaring Debt'

Following is the third installment of Samuel J. Gordon's own story of his Eagle Investment Company operations, as told exclusively to the Boston Evening American:

By SAMUEL J. GORDON.

As told to William R. Twomey.

I wish to have the Boston Evening American say for me to the members of the Eagle Investment Association that they shouldn't feel they have lost all money to their credit on the books of the organization.

They will get their money back—perhaps not every cent. But a large part of their funds will be returned to them.

Today I will try to show how if I could direct partial liquidation from my cell here in jail or from the office of District Attorney O'Brien fifty cents on the dollar might be paid within a very few weeks to the poor people who have lost their savings.

Conservatively estimating the liabilities at $200,000—I don't say it's that much, and it may be more, let me add:

Real estate holdings of mine valued at $13,000 I will gladly divert to the association or its receiver, if one is appointed.

This property, as I have stated before in my stories to the Boston Evening American, are located on Brackett street, Brighton, and on Lovett street, West End. The Brighton property I value at $13,000, and the Lovett street property at $15,000.

The balance of the $100,000, which should be shortly credited to the members of the Eagle, would come from long overdue payments on notes and payments accruing since my arrest.

As to the future payments to depositors, I will state without fear of contradiction from any Eagle officer or member, if Samuel J. Gordon was in some manner allowed to personally collect these moneys as due the balance of the association's debt to depositors they would be paid off in due time.

It would require from five to six

LIFE SAVINGS, $600, LOST BY WIDOW, 77

Today a 77-year-old widow is puzzling her brain to make $22 to a long, long way, that she may escape poverty and a pauper's grave.

Into the financial ruin of the Eagle Investment Association, went her $600, every cent she had in the world, so meekly and desiring with her case that the members, losers themselves, collected the $22 for her immediate needs.

"For me, nothing, for the devil everything," Mrs. Gusie Schneider of No. 101 Brighton street, West End, characterized Samuel J. Gordon, through whose alleged wildest stock speculations, she cried, she was thrown upon the world as a charge.

"I've been a widow thirty years. I worked that fine," she sobbed. "I'll go mad. I tell you, I'll go blind crying."

Between noon she pictured a life of want and denial, hardship and unhappiness. She buried three sons a few years ago, and now a sick daughter is her only blood relation. The girl is staying at a farm for her health.

"I dragged all barrels back and forth from the yard to the sidewalk; I was junior here so my rent could be less. I lifted heavy pots and kettles at weddings; I waited on babies. I attended the sick. What do you think? I worked myself to the bone that every little bit should go to make my old age comfortable and give me a peace burial. I didn't out."

"I can't work any more," she sobbed. "I don't eat. I don't sleep. I'll go mad working. What's to become of me? Nobody wants an old woman. Nobody cares. While I deluded myself everything, Gordon had everything."

"For a whole year I kept asking interest on my money. They kept telling me I would get it all at one time. Women have husbands and children who support them. Who have 17. Nobody."

OFFICER SLAIN BY UNKNOWN ON WEDDING DAY

Washington, Oct. 12 (A.P.)—Detective Sergeant Arthur R. Schriver, 26 years old and regarded as the most efficient operative in the Washington department, was "the happiest man in the world," he told newspaper men today, because of his impending marriage this afternoon to Miss Helen Barnes Barker of McLean, Va.

It was the culmination of a romance of years, the engagement had been kept secret until last night. But there will be no wedding.

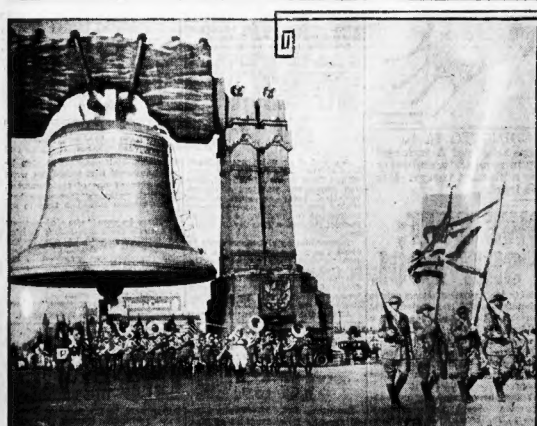

For 20 minutes after he had characterized himself as the "happiest man" and just as he was turning into his home, he was shot and killed by an unknown assailant who crested in the darkness. The bullet entered the detective's heart, killing him instantly, before he could draw his own pistol, but not before he had grasped the handle of the man who shot him. A short distance away was found the pistol from which the bullet had been fired.

Sergeant Schriver was recognized as the "crack" detective of the force. One of his most notable exploits was the capture, slung-handed and after a running photo fight, of Thurman Brown, negro prisoner who had escaped from the Atlanta penitentiary in 1919. Sergeant Schriver had been in the department for the past 14 years, nine years in the detective bureau.

ALL GLOUCESTER HAILS CAPTAIN OF DEFEATED FORD AS SEA'S GREATEST

ACCLAIMED HERO!
The deck of the Henry Ford, defeated schooner in the Gloucester fisherman's race, was thronged at the conclusion of the second contest by enthusiasts who hailed Captain Clayton Morrissey the sea's greatest leader.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOONER
Though twice beaten by the Columbian (Captain Ben Pine) the Henry Ford (Captain Clayton Morrissey) is still the favorite with the fishing folk of Gloucester. In both races, following the sea since he was 14 years he was 20, exhibited all the skill for to encompass victory over the audacious Columbia.

is (Captain Ben Pine) the Henry Ford (Captain Clayton Morrissey) is still the favorite with the fishing folk of Gloucester. In both races, following the sea since he was 14 years he was 20, exhibited all the skill for to encompass victory over the audacious Columbia.

CRITICAL POINT IN RACE
The rivals rounding the second turn. Soon afterwards the Henry Ford (right) ran into a calm spot and Captain Ben Pine of the Columbia (left), quick to take advantage of his rival's misfortune, tacked to the windward and assumed a lead too commanding for Captain Clayton Morrissey of the Ford to overcome, though he cut it down in the closing stage of the race. The race attracted much interest.

DEFIES CANADIANS
Captain Ben Pine, winning skipper, believes the Columbia is the very best and fastest boat in the world and able to beat any fishing craft afloat. So he has wired a challenge to Halifax for a series of races with the Canadian victor.

BETTER PALS THAN EVER AFTER FIRST BIG THRILL

HEROIC DOG AND HER MASTER
"Peggy," faithful canine, whose barking saved lives of five persons when fire destroyed Winthrop home. She is shown with her little master, Israel Boyasky, one of those who fled the flames as "Peggy" howled her timely alarm.

DOG SAVES FIVE FROM DEATH AMID FLAMES

Barking of "Peggy," a pet dog, today saved Nathan Boyasky and his family of four from suffocation in a fire that burned through the upper part of their two and one-half story frame dwelling house at No. 11 Water Way avenue, Winthrop.

While the family was asleep on the upper floor, the animal curled up in the kitchen, caught the scent of smoke.

Running through the house the dog set up a loud barking that finally awakened Boyasky to find the house filled with smoke and flames bursting through the roof.

The fire was extinguished after it had burned a large portion of the roof, but the interior of the house was flooded with water, making it uninhabitable. Neighbors took in the shivering family.

The faithful dog was not forgotten, and she, too, was given refuge in a nearby home.

After an investigation it was believed that the fire had started in an unused attic from a defective chimney fire.

GIRL TO VERIFY 'Y' STORY IN HALL CASE

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 13 (U.S.)—Another "mystery witness" appeared in the Hall-Mills murder investigation today when it became known that a girl has been called for questioning in connection with the story of Everett L. Parker, the so-called "Mystery Man." Parker is said to have told a story of having been in Parker's room on the night the flax, Edward W. Hall, New Brunswick pastor, and his companion, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, were slain. The girl is said to have been Parker's companion.

Parker is now being returned to New Jersey from California to testify in the trial, which opens November 2 at Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, wife of the slain pastor, and her two brothers, Henry and William Stevens. All three are charged with the murders.

According to what can be learned of Parker's story, he heard a woman scream in the late on the night the two were slain. Later, he is said to have told the authorities he saw persons leaving the scene. He is still in the hands of the police.

Parker was driven into the case through Henry H. Dickinson, former New Jersey state trooper, who has been returned from California. Dickinson knew Parker in California.

WHAT DO MEN NEED?

A busy man's breakfast

Doctors tell us that the "hurried" breakfast hurries many a man to early old age. They men need a nourishing breakfast—food to stand by them through the busy morning hours.

Here is a pure hot cereal that men will like. It is very different from oatmeal. Different in taste. Different in food value. Even different in texture. New Oats is always light and fluffy—never mushy and gummy like ordinary oatmeal.

New Oats is a blend of oats and whole wheat, including the bran. It combines all the nourishing strengthening elements of both these favorite grains. It is one of the world's best foods. The tempting delicious flavor of New Oats whips a keen edge to turning appetite. It makes folks "eat to eat." It is an easy breakfast to prepare. It comes to you pre-cooked. Just boil it three minutes and serve.

Serve New Oats these cool days. It will build health and strength. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Your grocer has it.

Clean Plants Adequate Facilities

The third link in the chain that makes Hood's Grade "A" Milk the superior product is it.

Our country plants are located throughout the milk producing fields, convenient alike to the farmer and to the railroad. Every morning the farmers deliver their milk directly to these plants.

The milk is examined by an expert when it arrives. Temperatures checked, samples taken for chemical and bacteriological examination. The farmers' cans are washed and sterilized before being returned to them.

The milk is weighed and cooled in preparation for shipment to our city plants. On its way in refrigerated cars it is kept cold in summer and prevented from freezing in winter.

And so it arrives in the city in perfect condition, clean, rich, fresh and fine flavored. The milk for your children.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

Mother Gives Luncheon Tomorrow in Honor of Miss Carol Rogers

BY WAY OF A LARGE luncheon, as a preliminary festivity, and a dance in December for the more formal debut, Miss Carol Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Rogers of Spooner road, Chestnut Hill, makes her social entree.

THE DANCE IS SET for December 13 at Hotel Somerset. In the immediate foreground, tomorrow, to be explicit, comes the luncheon. That, too, is a Hotel Somerset affair, and the two hostesses, Mrs. Laurence J. Webster, aunt of the bride, join with Mrs. Rogers in giving the luncheon.

ESSENTIALLY a bad function, some severity of the just being presented are hidden. Then, too, there will be a group of seniors, mothers of some of the young girls, in all making a luncheon out of a hundred or thereabouts, out of a hundred or thereabouts.

TWO YOUNG MEN, with the whole wide world before them for their journeyings, are Messrs. Francis J. Burton of Fairfield street and James Conley, 23, of Milton. With college days just behind them they are off to see the world and its wonders.

NOW RAILING the high seas on the first lap of their wanderings, they propose to do Ireland in thorough and leisurely manner, before touring Great Britain and crossing to the continent. Travelers ever seaward they return to this country sometime in the far future via the Pacific Ocean.

JOURNEYING hither and yon, wherever vagrant fancy calls them, and with hosts of friends in high places to make their way both pleasant and entertaining, their journey should be a red letter event.

SPEAKING of travelers, that is, veterans globe trotter, Miss Dorothy M. P. M. Codman of Boston and "The Grand South Lincoln, departs in the near future for certain of the earth's far corners where she desires to roam.

LITTLE KNOWN shores of the South Pacific, in fact some parts where white men rarely go, are down as ports of call on Miss Codman's itinerary. She proposes to be away several months, as her invariable custom.

AMBITIOUS PLANS of the Atlanta Guild includes presentation in November of a stage success, "The Hairy Ape." With more than seven years of past achievement to its credit, the Guild is destined for large things, dramatically, during the next few months.

THE "BARON" over on Beacon Hill houses some of the Guild's presentations, while the larger Pine Arts Theatre also has been their stage. Everything done by the Guild is well done, and enthusiastic followers of this "little theatre" movement are many.

Quick Quizzes on the Movies By BARBARA BENTON

W. F. G. BROADLINE—It is prohibited by law to show motion pictures of a prefrontal outline the state wherein the match was fought. Yes, it is true that the faces of the Dempsey-Carpenter encounter were shown in Boston, but it was an infraction of the law for which somebody paid quite dearly. However, the movie imitators, with your welfare over at heart, are trying to find a way to show some kind of Dempsey-Turney pictures, and a plan is now under way to have these two gloves mix it up again in a special movie feature that will show Turney as the hero and Dempsey as the "villain." Both are said to be favorably disposed toward the venture.

H. J. M. BOSTON—After considerable survey of available material, Antonio Moreno has finally been chosen to play opposite Clara Bow in the picture of Elmer Glynne.

T.E. DORCHESTER—The charming leading lady in "The Hamaker" was Georgia Hale. Address her in care of the Paramount studio, Hollywood. She is now on location in the high Sierra for some more scenes with Jack Holt in Zane Grey's "The Man of the Forest," so don't be surprised if she makes you wait for an answer.

T. G. V. BOSTON—Cheer up! Another Harold Lloyd picture soon. There is no title for it yet, but that will be the finishing touch. It ought to be ready in another month.

L. F. M. DORCHESTER—You are quite right, much of the film business depends on notoriety, but I don't think you will see "Flaming Brown" in the movies—who requires one offer. But there are some plans afoot to introduce Olympia Mori to the camera.

MILL FOLK TELL OF NEW COTTON STYLE PLANS

The modern woman, with her demands for the most up-to-date in fashions, has forced the big cotton mills to establish style bureaus to keep ahead of Miss Flapper's insatiable demands and incidentally those of Miss Flapper's mother.

This innovation in textile mills was described at length by experts to the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers at the Cotton Plaza today in a two-day convention and style show.

Miss Marielette Hoffman, style expert of the Boston Mills, said: "Our style bureau is charged with keeping in touch with the latest tendencies and preparing designs that fit these tendencies."

"The public is only just beginning to hear about the fashion possibilities of cotton goods which properly styled and attractively presented."

Other style experts who described possibilities for cotton in midday's new fashions were H. S. Doubty, Bartlett Company; Mary Brooks Picken, Picken Brothers Company; and Margaret C. C. C. C.

President W. H. McCall called all members of the association together, various speakers were made, and business discussed.

Tonight the style show and dinner dance are features, the latter scheduled as "Ladies' Night." Tomorrow there will be more business discussion and John S. Lawrence of the New England Council will tell the crowd how to buy in the cotton mills.

COOLER WEATHER IS PROMISED TOMORROW Greater Boston early today resumed its normal autumn temperature. During the night the mercury hovered but did not fall below 51 above zero.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Partly cloudy, possibly with light showers tonight; Thursday, fair and cooler.

PLYMOUTH ROAD UNUSUAL TREATMENT

Channing Pollock Presents
"The Enemy," a Conflict
Play in Lecture Form

By NICHOLAS YOUNG
WAR may be made as tragically as by descriptive battle scenes in the trenches. Upon this general principle, Channing Pollock devised "The Enemy," now at the Plymouth Theatre. The play is a study of the mental treatment of armed bodies — and its consequences — an interpretation of the World War as a conflict of the mind.

There are those who have called it "The Enemy." It is not a play, but a lecture. It is a play, however, held in the form of a lecture. It is a play, however, held in the form of a lecture. It is a play, however, held in the form of a lecture.

As a war play, "The Enemy" was completely lacking in all popular ingredients. There was no warfare of trumpets, no rattle of musketry and no faded battle scenes. It was a study of the mind. It was a study of the mind. It was a study of the mind.

TRONCHAS CAST.
"The Enemy" was particularly brilliant in its characterizations. It was a study of the mind. It was a study of the mind. It was a study of the mind.

Back from the summer season, the student body of the University of the South is now at the Plymouth Theatre. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind.

Upper Grand Canyon plays Boston. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind.

My Girl in the Streets at Safety. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind.

Escape high rents and constant war. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind. It is a study of the mind.

Universal Service Motion Picture Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Florence Vidor registered an expression that may be put down in anger, disgust or disappointment, when she was told she would have to remain in New York to play the featured role in "Face to Face." She had hoped to return to the coast this week and make arrangements for her immediate marriage to George Fitzmaurice.

Fitzmaurice is busy directing "A Night of Love" at the Samuel Goldwyn studios. Frank Tattle, well known director, which as far as mutual divorces are concerned can take place in the state of New York.

Forbes Sees Business Good But Not Superlatively So

By B. C. FORBES

PACIFIC COAST, Oct. 13.—Like most in consequence economically, the Pacific coast is not in a position to expect a superlatively good business year.

any coast the last three weeks have been a period of relative quiet. The business has been good, but not superlatively so. The coast is not in a position to expect a superlatively good business year.

EVERWHERE the question is, of course, "What do you think of business?" In most places it is followed by "What do you think of the stock market?" These questions are asked rather than answered. But as I am paid to form and write opinions, I suppose I must not dodge, even though frankly, I would prefer to do so.

FIRST BUSINESS—business at the coast is not in a position to expect a superlatively good business year. The coast is not in a position to expect a superlatively good business year.

MOST MEN see a little reason for expecting anything but a continuation of at least a rational measure of prosperity. Yet here is a curious fact. Quite a number of them have a feeling on intuition, a hunch that we are due for some diminution of prosperity. And they are acting with a considerable degree of caution.

THE RECENT drastic drop in cotton prices has aggravated this attitude. This is a development of

Sharkey Earns Right to Title Bout

HOW HUB HEAVYWEIGHT

BEGINS TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT

Boston Battler Proves Greatness by Victory Over Harry Wills

By JACK CONWAY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Harry Wills, Boston's own heavyweight, started forth as the world's greatest fighting man as a result of his decisive victory over Harry Wills in the 13th round in a furious battle before more than 3,000 wildly cheering fans at Ebbett's Field.

$22,500 Sharkey's Bit for Victory Over Dusky Foe

New York, Oct. 13.—Jack Sharkey, Boston's contender for the heavyweight boxing crown, will get approximately $22,500 for his victory over Harry Wills. The net receipts of the battle at Ebbett's Field were about $115,000, promoter Haulbert Fugazy announced today. Of this sum Wills will get 35 per cent, or $10,250.

With his picture on the box, he also knew that he could hit the negro king when and where he pleased.

JACK OPENS UP.
Sharkey then opened up and gave one of the most magnificent exhibitions of wide open fighting any Boston heavyweight has put up since the days of the immortal John L. Sullivan.

As Wills, half dead from the speed of the Boston fighter's attack, floundered in the center of the ring, Sharkey looked and moved and then let fly a terrific right hand punch, it landed flush on Wills' jaw and drove him half way across the ring.

Wills' knees sagged under the power of the blow, while his mouth widened open. Another disaster struck Wills when Sharkey landed a second right hand punch, it landed flush on Wills' jaw and drove him half way across the ring.

Sharkey then landed a third right hand punch, it landed flush on Wills' jaw and drove him half way across the ring.

Sharkey then landed a fourth right hand punch, it landed flush on Wills' jaw and drove him half way across the ring.

Budget Will Buy 'You Said It, Marceline!'

Budget Talk, No. 115
 BY MARCELINE D'ALROY

YESTERDAY I was talking to a young woman who was just married. She was a very pretty girl, and she was very happy. She was telling me about her new husband, and how much she loved him. She was telling me about the things they were doing together, and how much she enjoyed them. She was telling me about the things they were doing together, and how much she enjoyed them.

Training Children

By Charles A. L. Reed, M. D.
 Former President of the American Medical Association

YOUR children are the most important part of your life. They are the future of the world, and it is your duty to train them properly. You should teach them the right values, the right habits, and the right ways of thinking. You should teach them to be honest, to be kind, to be brave, and to be responsible. You should teach them to be good, to be true, and to be just.

Save Your Teeth— a sure and simple way

In the kitchen there's a most effective cleanser for the mouth and the teeth—Baking Soda, either ARM & HAMMER BRAND or COW BRAND, both the same product—pure bicarbonate of soda.

Prevent decay of the teeth by the daily use of baking soda as a dentifrice.

Spread the soda on a moistened tooth brush or pour a little in the palm of your hand, dip a moist brush in the soda, and brush the teeth thoroughly. This frees the teeth from dangerous film.

Baking Soda is one of the most helpful preparations known, useful every day all over the house. Get a package today, at your grocer's.

Lydia E. Pinkham were alive today she would be 107 years old.

Her memory is revered by her descendants who continue to treasure and market her famous Vegetable Compound. From Lydia E. Pinkham to her great granddaughters, generations have relied upon this dependable medicine. As a good girl of today, like the demure maiden of old, you know that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is to restore and preserve her health.

Years ago, a mother gave this medicine to her fifteen year old daughter. The daughter married and became the mother of seven children. She writes, "I always at before my babies were born and I gave me strength to keep up and do work. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again and I am giving it to my daughter."

Because this dependable medicine proved its worth in her own family, she answered letters from other women about it.
